Objectives

GTNT Group will identify, immediately deal with and eliminate any existing or potential situations that may be in conflict with the overall objectives of GTNT Group.

Conflicts of interest may include, but are not limited to, dealings internally between Board Members or Staff; or externally such as dealings with Host Businesses, Apprentices/Trainees, Registered Training Organisations (RTOs), Government Department/s or any other Stakeholder not already mentioned.

Host Businesses

Whilst management agrees with supporting businesses that supports GTNT Group, there is a need to exercise extreme caution in personal business dealings with host businesses.

Employees are not permitted to solicit or expect preference or discounts on the basis of the host's business relationship with GTNT Group.

Employees will not withhold or restrict assistance to host businesses so as to benefit themselves.

It is recommended that staff who enter into a business relationship with a host business, is to inform the CEO.

Apprentices

Employees who maintain personal relationships with apprentices outside of work must ensure that this relationship does not interfere with the ongoing employer/employee relationship.

Under no circumstances is the employee to discuss GTNT Group issues or other GTNT Group employees with the apprentice during this personal relationship.

Australian Apprenticeships Support Network (AASN)

A condition of the AASN contract is that a conflict of interest policy and plan is in place to ensure that GTNT Group does not receive preferential treatment, or gain an unfair advantage in their operations due to the AASN contract.

The effect of this policy and plan is that the AASN must treat, and be seen to treat, GTNT Group in the same way as any other employer of Australian Apprentices, GTO or Registered Training Organisation

Full details of this area of conflict of interest policy and plan are available in the AASN contract documentation.
